The following additional information was provided regarding the July 24 Board meeting agenda:

Item 3.a, Purchase Order Listing:

1. P0124534: May you elaborate on the "One Book One College" event? Each year, Fullerton College students, faculty, and staff read a common book and unite around community discussions and campus events. Ideal books have a broad appeal that makes them meaningful additions to classes across disciplines, but they also invite students and staff to read them apart from the classroom—books that inspire engaging conversations, books that encourage the sharing of diverse perspectives, books that are enjoyable to read and promotes critical thinking skills.
2. P0124849: What's this association for? This is the Association for Unmanned Vehicle Systems International, a nonprofit organization devoted exclusively towards advancing and developing a comprehensive and cross-discipline drone training program. It is the leading association of the unmanned vehicle industry. The institutional membership will allow for greater networking and industry training opportunities within the robotics community.
3. P0124982: What's this for? This Purchase Order is to pay for travel expenses for two consultants from Total Computing Solutions, LLC. The consultants provided a one-week training at Fullerton College to train staff on the Bookstore Point of Sale and Inventory Management system, equipment installation at the College, and software updates at the Anaheim Campus and Fullerton College.
4. P0124991: What does NASFAA stand for? NASFAA stands for National Association of Student Financial Aid Administrators.
5. P0125253: May you elaborate on this contract? Elevate Tomorrow is an organization Cypress College has contracted with previously to promote equity and diversity in their student experience. The College will be bringing in a series of empowering speakers to share their stories, networking ideas, and connecting dual enrollment students with the careers within their programs of interest; they will also be providing professional development for the instructors who teach in their dual enrollment programs.
6. P0125517: What does AMATYC stand for? AMATYC stands for American Mathematical Association of Two-Year Colleges.
7. P0125722: What does SCIAC stand for? SCIAC stands for Southern California Intersegmental Articulation Council.
8. P0125723: What does the N4A Region V Conference discuss? The N4A Region V Conference discusses innovation and trends in athletic academic services and student-athlete development. It covers topics that highlight research, best practices, and innovative programs from all professionals working to support and develop student-athletes.

Item 3.d, Consultant Agreement with R2A for Anaheim Campus Upper Deck:

1. Second paragraph: "...the Observation Team noted that the deck might not have been built pursuant to the Office of Statewide Health Planning and Development approved drawings." Was this prior to the District's ownership of the building? Yes, the deviations occurred during the original construction in 1972 when the structure was occupied and used as a hospital, many years prior to our acquisition of the site. The observations and discoveries of the waterproofing substrate assembly in the parking deck were also completed prior to the District's ownership.
2. If it was done by a contractor under NOCCCD's jurisdiction, do we have any recourse? We have no recourse. The 10-year Statute of Limitations for latent defects or hidden defect begins after the original notice of completion or date of occupation by the original owner. However, we believe the parking deck is still structurally sound, it is just that the deck was constructed with minor differences from the "as-built" drawings. We added several testing areas to gather addition information to be used for the major renovation plan.

Items 4.a – 4.e, CCAP Dual Enrollment Partnership Agreements:

1. Under the second WHEREAS, there are several claims as to the advantages of dual enrollment. Will data be collected to affirm these results? Both Colleges will continue collecting data regarding the outcomes of Dual Enrollment offerings. We have been doing this since the implementation of the CCAP agreements in 2016-17.
2. Who has the resources to do this kind of longitudinal research? The high schools? The District? A shared responsibility? Both Colleges, the Research Offices have been conducting the research since the implementation of AB288. They are in the process of finalizing a Data Sharing Agreement with AUHSD which will make the process of gathering information easier. A similar agreement will be discussed with the other school districts we have CCAP agreements with.
3. Under Section 5, Participating Students, 5.3: If classes are held at a high school, will support services be available at those locations with sufficient staff? What will "insure" that ancillary and support services are provided? At Cypress College they are equipped through the dual enrollment office to support and make sure all enrolled students have the resources they need to be successful. Fullerton College is currently providing counseling and guidance, placement assistance and assessment to all sites where dual enrollment courses are offered. In addition, we are in the process of expanding the use of embedded tutoring when the teaching faculty request it.
4. Under Section 6, CCAP Agreement Courses, 6.7: Since the colleges have been working on SLOs for some time, what provision for training in teaching to SLOs and evaluating outcomes of same might be provided to high school faculty who teach these courses. At Cypress College all faculty teaching dual enrollment courses are being required to attend a monthly meeting (also held via conference call) to allow for sharing of challenges, best practices, and to answer individual questions on serving this population. At Fullerton College, currently, only faculty hired by the College's instructional departments teach the dual enrollment courses at the high schools. If these courses were taught by high school teachers, they would need to go through the same training as Fullerton College faculty teaching the same courses.

5. As a follow-up to the prior question, is the response answered in Section 7, 7.8 and 7.9?
Yes.
6. Section 7.9: The language seems to indicate that School district faculty will participate in professional development, yet ongoing collegial interaction seems to be permissive as in the phrase "shall be encouraged to participate..." Comment? At Cypress College monthly meetings are held to ensure that faculty are trained on how best to work with high school students enrolled in dual enrollment courses. The College lets them know of this commitment when the class is offered to the faculty member. At Fullerton College only faculty hired by the College's instructional departments teach the dual enrollment courses at the high schools. If these courses were taught by high school teachers, they would need to go through the same training as Fullerton College faculty teaching the same courses.
7. Under Section 12, Program Improvement. 12.1: :The College and the School district may annually conduct surveys...for the purpose of informing practice, making adjustments, and improving the quality of courses offered..." Why is this evaluation permissive? This type of research supplements the data on success and retention collected each semester. Frequently, surveys of any type are conducted to allow time for improvements to be implemented and take effect. Additionally, it is not prudent to survey so frequently that "survey fatigue" occurs and the response rates can be low. Since surveys are one tool we have in our data collection toolkit, we use other methods to gather information on how to improve the quality of our courses.

Item 4.c, CCAP Dual Enrollment Agreement between Fullerton College & the Brea Olinda Unified School District:

1. What are the course offerings for this agreement? Attached is the course listing for the Brea Olinda Unified School District which was inadvertently included in Item 4.d.

Item 4.d, CCAP Dual Enrollment Agreement between Fullerton College & the Fullerton Joint Union High School District: The incorrect agreement was unfortunately included in the Board meeting agenda. Attached is the correct agreement –in its entirety– between Fullerton College and the Fullerton Joint Union High School District.

Item 4.g, Fullerton College Curriculum: This item will be pulled from block vote in order to remove the two new Paralegal Studies certificates (pages 4.g.27 and 4.g.28) from the listing of curriculum presented for approval.

1. Do the campuses have a multicultural requirement? The graduation requirement for the Colleges requires that students to complete a minimum of 3-units in identified courses related to cultural diversity or multicultural education. The graduation requirement applies to all local degrees, not ADTs. This information can be found in the Fall 2018 class schedules.

Additional Information
July 24, 2018 Board Meeting

2. Page 4.g.20: WELL 265 F: Why doesn't this course count towards an ADT? ADTs are designed using TMC (Transfer Model Curriculum), which includes course requirements identified by C-ID descriptors. It was determined through comparison that the course outline for WELL 265 F does not align with the C-ID descriptor. However, PE 252 F Introduction to Kinesiology is a good fit so this course was included instead.

3. Page 4.g.22: Why did the College decide to name the title from Kinesiology to Movement Anatomy? CSU Fullerton has a course titled Movement Anatomy. That course matches the same C-ID descriptor as WELL 265 F so the courses are considered to be equivalent. This course is a required lower division course for the Kinesiology Bachelor's Degree at CSUF. The PE Department thought that having the same title would make it easier for articulation and for students to see that WELL 265 F meets the Kinesiology major requirement at CSUF.

Item 5.c, Professional Experts:

1. Page 5.c.2: What does PTCB Test Prep stand for? PTCB stands for Pharmacy Technician Certification Board.
